The Admiralty. to Past dealing with Mr. Seely's charges net the Admiralty, says: "The public delinear of a State are nothing if they do not bectively and efficiently represent the emboent of a national necessity. And the most tile critic of the Administry can burnly say the board has failed of late years to appresd and appreciate the great constructive prohe of their day, or that they have shown a nchration to grapple with them when satisorily proved. But that is not so much the of Mr. Solly's charge against the Admirals that they have spent a great deal of money lec ssafily, both in making constructive ages in the fleet, and in other matters of dewhich he duly specifies. But we aperest in charges wherein the evidence o conflicting, and which, after all, relate enly to the past, while they offer no guarantee he future. What the public are really inested in, and what the nation requires, is that? accounts of direct and of indirect expendie of every dockyard be so readed as to enable prect estimate to be formed of the expendie in detail, of the issues and receipts, and of netual value of the stores in hand. With ourits so rendered, the more difficult problem, ich Mr. Seely does not appear to have reached, the efficient as well as vigilant supervision of dockyards, will be advanced a step; and with solution of that problem rests the most ectual means of checking ill-judged or lavish penditure in future."

Our Ironclads The Times, in an article on Mr. Rece is remidion and its enbacquent withdrawal, says more each it has to nege against the Adruley is that we, who chara to be the first of ritime Powers, are content to draw all one lowledge of sea-going turret vestels from the periments of foreign Powers. It is not to be pposed that the Americana in three years scovered the best possible application of the vel principle; but, instead of developing the inciple, we do all we can to discreditit. Broadhe ironclads were doomed two years ago, just ien the present boar I came into power, by the ccessful introduction of chilled shot and shell. to that time there was some hope of bread. le armoured ships affording a defence against e guns of an enemy. As gun-carriages, and turret vessels, but there did seem some ance of their defensive qualities proving still equate But with chilled shot and shell this po vanished finally and for ever, and there wer was a grouser abuse of the nation's money id path fee than that which the present bearl, their blundering we kness, still seek to perernate. They talk of one trial next year of the apt in and the Mowarch. We do not need by further experiment to show that turrets in be worked at sea. Reed says they cannot; Mr.

iya they can.. .The Church Establishment The Didy News (Ang. 11) questions the olicy of such elaborate arguments us those ast put forward in a sermon by the Bishop of Housester in favour of the union of Church ad btate. The writer or speaker who volungers to maintain want is not attacked, not inframently finds that he has only suggested lifficulties which might never have suggested hemselves; while at the best the absence of waved assailants reduces his championship to squerfluity. If there were nothing more to my than is put forward by the Bishop, those the are auxious to dissolve the connection vill find when the time for action comes that hey have an easier task than they looked forfor ship specially warns his bearers against those who argue that the State ought o central and guide the religious expression which it supports; but the doctrine that the begislature has this right is now propagated with singular ability. Its influence may be een everywhere in the sort of paralysis which has overtaken the natural defenders of the principle of an establishment. They find that principle pushed to a length, and asserted to involve consequences, of which they had previously no conception; and the matural result is that they hesitate to take any active steps towards the support of a connection which for the first time in their lives they bexe learned to suspect. The full result of this inaction on their part it is not yet possible to predict; but t is a cur ous instance of the enconscious irony of events that a secession from the defenders of the union of Church and State, which may prove so formidable, should have been provoked by a new and ardent development of the Erastian.

The Latest Miracle. The Wiltshire papers say that considerable excitement has been caused at New Swindon. y some so-called miraculous cures performed y the Rev. F. R. Young the Unitarian minister. The cure, it appears, is effected by "faith," i.c. the person operated upon must have faith. One use has attracted much attention. A Mrs. Joseph Jones, living at New Swindon, was struck with paralysis about three mouths since, and lost the use of her lower limbs. She was unable to get up or down stairs, and her bed was made in the parlour. She could not even dress without assistance. On a certain Tuesday last month, Mr. Young asiled upon ber, and obtained permission to operate. We must let the reporter of the Wills. and Glovester Standard describe the modus operander . In the personce of another woman he first straked her legs from the knees downwards, prayed cornestly, then passed bis hands over her face in the manner of the necentric pass, and seizing her thambs as sac-Liyon her bed confininded her to get up and walk. The poor woman -we had these facts from her own mouth -save her sensations at that moment were indescribable. - She got up and walked across the room to a sofa, Mr. Young strictly communiting her not to touch anything with her hands as an aid, nor did shu. He then fold her to walk down the passage, which she did, and the climix of the wander was reached vious she walked upstairs. We ourselves on Puesday, morning saw her walk across a room-It afterwards approved that she had been in the babit of taking Turkish boths at the Volunteer
